

Held over rape in police station

■ By Alang Bendahara
alang@nst.com.my

KUALA LUMPUR: A policeman was detained for allegedly forcing a 17-year-old girl to perform oral sex and raping her in a police station in Selangor recently.

It was learnt that the policeman, in his 20s, had stopped the girl and her boyfriend, who were riding a motorcycle, while making his rounds about 5am on June 18.

Upon questioning, the policeman, who was with a colleague, discovered that the girl's boyfriend did not possess a licence and the couple was taken to a police station for further questioning.

Sources said the couple was later interrogated separately in different rooms.

While being interrogated, the girl was allegedly forced to undress and threatened.

"The policeman allegedly threatened to throw her boyfriend in jail for 20 years if she refused to obey his instructions," said a source.

Fearing for her boyfriend's safety, the girl agreed to the policeman's demand and performed oral sex on him and was also raped.

After about 30 minutes, the couple was released and she did not reveal the incident to either her boyfriend or family members.

However, two days later, the girl decided to inform her cousin about what happened in the police station.

The cousin later informed the girl's parents.

On Sunday, the girl, accompanied by her family members, lodged a police report at the Putra Heights police station in Subang Jaya.

When contacted, Selangor police chief Datuk Khalid Abu Bakar confirmed the report.

He however refused to elaborate, saying that the case was still under investigation.